Continue

New Member Introductions Threads 2.4K Messages 17.1K Please post restoration, technical, for sale, and wanted posts in the appropriate sections below. Threads 16.1K Messages 193.7K Please post monitor topics in the section below Threads 68.3K Messages 538.6K For all pre-microprocessor and B&W video games, esp. 1971-1979 Threads 1.3K Messages 4.2K Emulation & Multi-Game Threads 1.3K Messages 137.9K Redemption Machines Threads 972 Messages 5.5K Slot Machines Threads 918 Messages 5.7K Lore and or drama/scammers/adventures etc. the Tempest decal thread got me to thinking and it made me think of the Tempest spinner Brrrrr thread and how for a while everyone was asking if it had the Brrrrrr LOL. I want to make a list really bad of all the stuff, but I want other folks to have a single thread with a master list of all the must reads would be pretty outstanding. I think the first time I saw that Star Wars chair was at Zapcon. Have a pic of me sitting in it somewhere... Donor 5 years: 2017-2019, 2023-2024 Water logged Warrior is a fav of mine Okay, just the Tempest spinner and this.... It's a real shame that the owner never made the marquee light up (or get brighter) every time the phone rang, or was in use... Maybe even had a timer that flashed the marquee as a warning before it cut off a long-winded conversation. Donor 3 years: 2011-2012, 2017 Some epic thread... although searching for the content might lead to some good reads too Some epic thread... although searching for the content might lead to some good reads was my intent. It's fun to fall into a KLOV hole. And much better for you than doomscolling on FB or some other [un]social media. But fine. I put a link up there. Donor 3 years: 2016-2017, 2024 Yep, same vibe with those two. I called that in one of those threads...just bizarre The recent varkon saga was a dumpster fire. Many fizgig threads also turned into shitshows. Free the fiz! Donor 3 years: 2011, 2015, 2018 Does anyone have the Toilet Tempest movie poster image handy? I always struggle to find it on my phone. @jehuie or @Da Coach usually post it up... That was a really crazy year at CAX. Page 2 Creating that list each week was fun, but a TON of work... and nobody complained when I stopped doing it... I loved the list, but knew it had to be a crazy amount of work to compile all that every week.... and figured it would eventually get the axe. Lore and or drama/scammers/adventures etc. the Tempest spinner Brrrrrr thread and how for a while everyone was asking if it had the Brrrrrr LOL. I want to make a list really bad of all the stuff, but I want other folks to have something to post. Okay, just the Tempest spinner and this.... I still feel like should be part of Christmas ornament collection from Halmark. The KLOV series. Donor 5 years: 2012, 2022-2025 Someone already beat me to the Jenn vs. Red Baron dumpster fire thread. I think part of the ADVENTURE of belonging to KLOV is finding these threads, kind of like an easter-egg hunt. Is the Popeye still available? Thanks, Jason Every time toilet Tempest comes up I'm sad for missing it. Plus it makes me wonder about the inspiration for the game. Random scary things coming at you out of a circular hole and you have to destroy them or push them backward and keep them down where they belong. Donor 5 years: 2012, 2022-2025 Every time toilet Tempest comes up I'm sad for missing it. Plus it makes me wonder about the inspiration for the game. Random scary things coming at you out of a circular hole and you have to destroy them or push them backward and keep them down where they belong. That just wants to make me go play it. Well done. Donor 3 years: 2011, 2015, 2018 I think part of the ADVENTURE of belonging to KLOV is finding these threads, kind of like an easter-egg hunt. Agreed, but our collective brain's memory storage isn't getting any better, either. Donor 3 years: 2021, 2023-2024 Here is a subtle reference to a shit show I was unfortunately involved with. I feel honored to be the first to mention Tech-Noir Pizza. I miss thread tags so much. I feel honored to be the first to mention Tech-Noir, and raise you one Killert6969. "If your offer is not accepted, you leave and never contact me ever again." For me, I find intrigue with the Auctions sections just to see the outlandish ads posted by idiots. Some are real doozies! Donor 5 years: 2012, 2022-2025 Agreed, but our collective brain's memory storage isn't getting any better, either. Well, let's FIX that. jawhn - Give me 15 brain jumping jacks - Ready Begin! Now give me 15 brain burpees - Ready - Begin! Now give me 15 brain sit ups. Ready (OUCH) Begin! See your retention (I don't want to do these *$(*@^(*$ exercises) is already increasing. Page 3 At times those thread tags, extremely funny. although I must have missed the thread tags, extremely funny. although I must have missed the thread tags. years: 2013-2025 Donor 13 years: 2013-2025 Ah, the good ol' days on KLOV before all the fascist PC restrictions .... Waht's Slightly unrelated, but this pic reminds me a youtuber that didn't secure a Centipede and had it fall out of their truck. You gotta use the good shit when you stand them up in the truck, I usually have a strap around the control panel and going through the cabin, along with the other game pushed up against it and secured down. Last edited: Dec 12, 2024 Lore and or drama/scammers/adventures etc. the Tempest decal thread got me to thinking and it made me think of the Tempest spinner and this.... I really wanted to buy that Star Wars chair back in the day. I am not kidding Page 4 "Saturday Supercade!" videos from TOG on YT! I mean the ones they were forced to take down from this site! Donor 6 years: 2013, 2015, 2017, 2019, 2021 i'm guessing those threads got nuked, but hilarious all the same. we need a sub-forum where these kinds of threads can be uniquely curated for scholarly, historical purposes They exist, just search for dick guy Donor 5 years: 2012, 2022-2025 What in the actual heck is going on there? Well, I'm pretty sure I can rule that out. Thanks for the excellent warning. Please tell me that you have at least seen this video? I laugh every. single. time. LOL No, I actually had not viewed that one. He seems surprised it's brown paint. Any idea why? John was restoring a Jouney so he went through all this effort to find an exact paint match. He opens the can expecting to see a "royal blue" kind of color. He just keeps mixing and mixing expecting the brown color to somehow change to blue and it doesn't. He just keeps mixing and he is just so shocked to keep seeing brown. I find the simple things funny. Donor 5 years: 2012, 2022-2025 John was restoring a Jouney so he went through all this effort to find an exact paint match. He opens the can expecting to see a "royal blue" kind of color. He just keeps mixing and he is just so shocked to keep seeing brown. I find the simple things funny. Maybe it dries different.... lol. Thanks for the back story I remember this epic length thread. Have no idea how it ended, I got tired of reading. Yes lol. There was a time when this site was a drunken fueled party like back stage at a Motley Crue concert. Ban hammers were swinging so fast the Richter Scales were going off the charts. Maybe 2010ish? -clams were all over the place. -goatse was all over the place. -Duiba -the nip slip of the arcade model, the one where a klov member called her soupy sales and the op went ballistic. -McClemore making an emergency announcement to re-direct anal sex and masturbation threads to the new PUB subforum to control the x rated chaos posts. -I can't remember what it was exactly, but lots of people changed their profile pic to a warped variation of a meme where it looked like a grandma was giving a young man a handy. People used their profile pic as the lucky young recipient. There was also a thread birthed around this time too called "the official pointer to drama thread" which was removed and carried a heavy warning that if another was created, that thou would send down a ban hammer of permanent destruction to all those in participation and wipe the earth clean. I'm sure there was more. I couldn't imagine being a mod during that time, must've been like riot control lol. May they continue to embrace incredible patience when klov goes off the rails and into outer space again. To have a single thread with a master list of all the must reads would be pretty outstanding. Just don't make it a drama list thread again, take Indy's advice...close your eyes and don't look at it lol. Page 5 Donor 14 years: 2012-2025 Yes lol. There was a drunken fueled party like back stage at a Motley Crue concert. Ban hammers were swinging so fast the Richter Scales were going off the charts. Maybe 2010ish? -clams were all over the place. -goatse was all over the place. -Duiba -the nip slip of the arcade model, the one where a klov member called her soupy sales and the op went ballistic. -McClemore making an emergency announcement to re-direct anal sex and masturbation threads to the new PUB subforum to control the x rated chaos posts. -I can't remember what it was exactly, but lots of people changed their profile pic to a warped variation of a meme where it looked like a grandma was giving a young man a handy. People used their profile pic as the lucky young recipient. There was also a thread birthed around this time too called "the official pointer to drama thread" which was removed and carried a heavy warning that if another was created, that thou would send down a ban hammer of permanent destruction to all those in participation and wipe the earth clean. I'm sure there was more. I couldn't imagine being a mod during that time, must've been like riot control lol. May they continue to embrace incredible patience when klov goes off the rails and into outer space again. I'm not sure, but I think that official pointer to drama thread might have been mine. that was a long time ago and I never really did understand why that was a bad thing. it was really no different than this thread in any way. I'm not sure, but I think that official pointer to drama thread might have been mine. that was a long time ago and I never really did understand why that was a bad thing, it was really no different than this thread in any way. The one I'm referring to wasn't you. Go to this thread in post #20. I didn't want to link the thread in post #20. I didn't want to li thread if you're claiming it could've been you? It's been so long. And yes, you're right, this thread is similar except that this thread is more like a stroll down memory lane 10 years later after the atomic dust settled. Back then, the drama thread was like reigniting drama fires that mods were constantly trying to put out at that time and they were beyond fed up. It was so chaotic back then I think I remember Tombo posting somewhere that the next person who posted a Pic of the star wars chair was getting a ban of some sort. Nowadays it's posted but so few and far between I don't think that would ever be enforced unless it got out of control again. Last edited: Dec 12, 2024 Donor 4 years: 2020-2021, 2023-2024 I'm new enough to have missed a TON of the legacy silly shit. I imagine I'm not alone in that! At times those thread tags were the best and funniest things on KLOV. That option for tags was great! I wished they never got rid of it. I was like a goddamn savant with the tags. It was sort of an artistic outlet for me. There would be times I'd fill out the max allowable. (In tags) The guy who was stealing arcade & pinball games murdered(?) someone or led police on high speed chase was wild. (From Alabama/georgia??) His mug shot said it all "SAY NO TO METH" Anyone remembers that story? The guy who was stealing arcade & pinball games murdered(?) someone or led police on high speed chase was wild. (From Alabama/georgia??) His mug shot said it all "SAY NO TO METH" Anyone remembers that story? Missed that one. —-LINKS PLEASE!!!—- Donor 3 years: 2011, 2015, 2018 The guy who was stealing arcade & pinball games murdered(?) someone or led police on high speed chase was wild. (From Alabama/georgia??) His mug shot said it all "SAY NO TO METH" Anyone remembers that story? I DEMAND CITATION Donor 3 years: 2011, 2015, 2018 I'm new enough to have missed a TON of the legacy silly shit. I imagine I'm not alone in that! Huh. I thought you'd been around for that stuff. Lore x4000 on this site. Donor 4 years: 2020-2021, 2023-2024 THAT is a crazy storyline. Holy shit Oh! Kyle Fuller! I remember the name! Guess I didn't sleep through that after all. I'm late to this thread but as soon as I saw the title, I thought "$4000, no more, no less" and "if your offer is rejected, you must leave and never contact me again." Glad they were both mentioned in the first 24 hours I had @GreaseBall's "Yeah, I'm talking shit about a guy selling a broken tv and a few pieces of wood for $4000" in my signature for quite a while EDIT: It's still in my sig and I forgot I screencapped it. Too good of a read not to. Guy went nutso over a single word and a post I recall a weird thread many years ago where John Exidy made some comment, and the next thing he knows, there are a ton of photoshoped images of him in all sorts of locations and circumstances. Seems like it went off the rails not too long afterwards. Scott C. These are playing out in real-time: G07 Colors Great Job Is KLOV the last bastion of The True Arcade Forum, meaning an actual site where people go to have a discussion about arcade games, raids, restoration, sales, tech help... or is there another? I know some of you know only klov but there are other forums. I'm on the DK forum, and believe it or not just got 'accepted' into the OG CAGDC! And there's the DLP, BYOAC, marp, meme, etc.. All of those have little to no interaction or active members. But KLOV does! It's kinda the last forum with the most people with the most knowledge that is still active. Basically for my own benefit, Long Live KLOV! But is any other forum doing good or are we it.? Keep klov going strong, or surrender to the (FB) meta?? Thoughts on every other arcade forum welcome!!! Donor 11 years: 2015-2025 I hear that people on Meta hate us! Donor 13 years: 2013-2025 Another popular site with active forums -> And ... In Canada we have MAACA and CGCC. Both are somewhat active. Coin-Op Corner - www.cgcc.ca KLOV is, and will always be, the best archived site for technical knowledge and arcade drama. Donor 3 years: 2011, 2015, 2018 This place is pretty much the gold standard. ...everyone forgets neo-geo.com. Im not a member on arcade controls forum but it sure does pop up a lot when im looking up how to fix stuff. Back in the day we used to all post on the newsgroups but once KLOV opened at the time we all resisted it, we didn't want to go over to KLOV they weren't as cool as the newsgroups.... but after about a year or so there were many more people on KLOV than anywhere else so we all made the jump over, there's nothing even close or 20% of what KLOV is even to this day. It's like Pinside, There were lots of other forums and the newsgroup RGP but Pinside like it or not has 20 times the traffic and members that any other pinball forum has.... Being in the UK UKvac is equally essential to me since I can buy stuff from there where I can't from here. This site is better because of more users (and thus more knowhow) but as a brit UKvac is more like a comfy little home. I enjoy different forums for different purposes - I used to frequent BYOAC about 10-15 years ago over KLOV, but that's because I was looking to scratch-build as cab. My earliest, noobiest shit is locked away over there. I started frequenting Arcade Projects () when I was looking for CPS2 and System 246 information as they tend to be geared to more modern games. At the same time I was looking for CPS2 and System 246 information as they tend to be geared to buy more "vintage" parts, then stuck around because that's where I interests have been focused for the last couple years. All are nice forums as long as you maintain focus on "their purpose"! we are the best, and everyone else is bad and our enemy (am i doing it right?) I'm pretty tame in my response to threads here on KLOV but I'm not going to hold back much on this response. Not because I'm some kind of KLOV cheerleader but because it needs to be said. The vast majority of other sites and groups just suck. A prime example is the explosion of facebook groups. Over a dozen arcade related facebook groups and 90% of the people in them are basically morons, wannabe arcade experts that have no idea what they are talking about. Most of them are either spreading false information or clearly jumping on KLOV to copy-pasta stuff they read here in order to over-inflate their internet egos. I've joined a few and I've tried to have some discussion with some of them and you can tell they don't have a clue about what they are talking about. other forums are basically dead of any real, valuable content. The local florida forums The Village has basically been purged of any arcade talk and its been relegated to discussion about pinball lately. I read arcade projects when i don't have a project of my own going on. Donor 4 years: 2015, 2021, 2024-2025 stuff. Pinside is a cesspool, and "Meta" is even worse. even with the noob influx brought on by @SCUBA King and his ilk, KLOV covers most mainstream technology (Wells-Gardner, G07s, vector), arcadecontrols a little more obscure. I'm at UKVAC, but they're a little too far outside the box with tech stuff. Pinside is a cesspool, and "Meta" is even worse, even with the noob influx brought on by @SCUBA King and his ilk, KLOV still has some educational nuggets for people like me, enjoy me while it still lasts, or don't. @mecha just doing my part to keep you entertained now that you ruined IRC and forced @thegleek to sell all his games. Is KLOV the last bastion of The True Arcade Forum, meaning an actual site where people go to have a discussion about arcade games, raids, restoration, sales, tech help... or is there another? 1st my opinion doesn't count. I got a technical brain. It is most happy when it finds a solution to the problem. Creating a natural site where people go to have a discussion about arcade games, raids, restoration, sales, tech help... or is there another? website/ forum takes way too much time for one person to invest in. Yea, I got other stuff to do. I have created rooms/forums and chat rooms before. They are a major time sink. While I enjoy them, I don't see the point of running and hosting them. Currently I host repair parties. This is where discussions of arcade stuff that is going on in our lives happens. I got people wanting to join but frankly I am growing tired of people trying convince me one way or the other about covid or polical stuff. I am just tired of listening to everyone's opinions. So I just gather a few cool techie types and we hang out fixing arcade machines. Swapping stories, gifting stuff and having fun. There will be a time when first ten times out of ten, though... Page 2 Donor 10 years: 2015, 2017-2025 Yeah, I browse other sites and skim through the Facebook forums but KLOV is what I would call 'Hardcore'. It's where the serious arcade collector's who are passionate about the hobby and truly preserve stuff hang out and collaborate.. but at the same time if not for the jokesters & fun? We'd all get burnt out.. so the best, yes. nothing wrong with a bit of wild banter amongst m8s, an essential part of KLOV KLOV is a bit US one sided for me although I do like to read here . In most of the world arcades didn't prosper for just a couple of years and then died as in de US, and those early games being branded as the classics " is just a regional thing. For me the late eighties and nineties Jamma years are the real classics and Japan leading even though I was around in the late 70's and early 80's so I go to forums related to those. Donor 5 years: 2017-2018, 2020-2021, 2024 If you're not involved here on KLOV you're not really into arcades... period, end of story. little over 3 years ago I bought my first arcade a 1 slot neo geo forum. A few months later I found KLOV and never went back KLOV is my first choice, I frequent the others but mostly for specific reasons (arcade-projects for Forgotten Worlds spinner updates and pcbs for sale), arcadecontrols to see what is going on with emulation, village-bbs (for the local Florida scene (which is mostly pinball and for sale threads). I'm poor, so no pinballs and I'm not on pinside. While I am probably joined to a lot of the Facebook groups, they are mostly crap and occasionally there is something decent to buy there. FB is terrible for archiving information, if I need to fix/research my game, KLOV is my first choice. YouTube is pretty awesome for watching repair videos, lately I've been watching a lot of CRT chassis repair videos to level up my skills for my own CRTs (can't stand everyone else is bad and our enemy (am i doing it right?) We have to be careful with stuff like the above. It turns up on search engines. We mean it to be funny, but others can take it as arrogance without understanding the context in which is provided, and it could keep them away. We have to be careful with stuff like the above. It turns up on search engines. We mean it to be funny, but others can Unfortunately, we have some people these days that can't handle the "KLOV intensity" and it scares them off. Last edited: Nov 10, 2021 We have to be careful with stuff like the above. It turns up on search engines. We mean it to be funny, but others can take it as arrogance without understanding the context in which is provided, and it could keep them away. My message to the world: ZAXXON SUCKS! Donor 5 years: 2012, 2022-2025 Agreed. Like it or not, you catch more bees with honey than vinegar these days. When I first joined KLOV, I was warned: "You gotta have a little thicker skin to hang around there" I have zero issue with this so KLOV is very enjoyable for me. Unfortunately, we However, for someone who comes in off the web - it can be quite daunting. My efforts to get some of the more noteworthy enthusiasts to back off a little bit have been ineffective. Is KLOV the last bastion of The True Arcade Forum, meaning an actual site where people go to have a discussion about arcade games, raids, restoration, sales, tech help... or is there another? 1st my opinions don't count. Are there other's places? Yes, there are other places and platforms. Where? If you search for it, Most likely you will find it. Remember it is "NOT" my job to drive KLOV members anything OFF SITE. Personally, I connect with people directly. So they are the 1st to hear the news about the arcade stuff, I deal with. Smart phones allow me to take a video clip and send it to a groups of friends. I get a heck of a lot more positive feedback for the stuff I do. If there is extra time, I will post to other places but I still find posting a bit of a time sink. KLOV still is a technical knowledge depository for the video arcade machines. We have to be careful with stuff like the above. It turns up on search engines. We mean it to be funny, but others can take it as arrogance without understanding the context in which is provided, and it could keep them away. Disagree. As I mentioned earlier, there are tons of sites and groups filled with arcade misinformation, wannabe experts and "historians". you'll have to decide whether your fragility is more important than obtaining accurate information. That goes for everything social on the internet. This isn't a new trend. Donor 5 years: 2012, 2022-2025 Disagree. As I mentioned earlier, there are tons of sites and groups filled with arcade misinformation, wannabe experts and "historians". you'll have to decide whether your fragility is more important than obtaining accurate information. That goes for everything social on the internet. This isn't a new trend. You have an interesting perspective. We are a community that is made stronger by a diverse voice, by location, experience, knowledge. I agree with your point that misinformation is out there. I think we can be just a bit guarded in our responses, so that the facts prevail and we don't scare people off. For example, instead of stating "we are the best, and everyone else is bad and our enemy" It could make your point by stating "we have many resident experts who really are experts more than in name - in experience, so that misinformation is minimized here. We self-police and self-correct." Both statements say the same thing, while the latter of the two makes your point in an eloquent manner that is likely to draw people in. Then put yourself in the person who doesn't know about KLOV and stumbles across these two statements - which one would make you more likely to want to join. We can be supportive without being abrasive. It's up to us to make this choice - either we do, or we don't. I think we should. Every new member enriches us in one way or another. Every new member makes KLOV better. Last edited: Nov 10, 2021 Can we declare war on the other forums yet. I forgot my password to arcade-projects.com and I feel this is enough cause for battle just don't take yourself or KLOV too seriously, and chances are KLOV and everyone here will be fine. (that's all i was trying to say) Does anyone really list games for sale on KLOV anymore? I feel like I see so many items go for sale on Facebook Marketplace now. KLOV used to be flooded with games now it seems like it's only on social media. 1. Most (I would say about 110%) are cheap on KLOV 2. FB has more noobs that don't know the value of a game and will over pay. 3. FB has a much larger audience than KLOV I will only sell here even if I get less. When selling full games, I usually use FB so I can sell locally, but for selling parts, I only sell here even if I get less. When selling parts, I only sell here. Donor 11 years: 2015-2025 Does anyone really list games for sale on KLOV anymore? I feel like I see so many items go for sale on Facebook Marketplace now. KLOV used to be flooded with games now it seems like it's only on social media. when i had listed, no one ever contacted me so i gave up. Donor 4 years: 2013, 2020-2021, 2025 Doesn't the "for sale" section answer this? That being said, I am consistently tempted to re-join Facebook simply for the marketplace. HOWEVER, I actually need to throttle my purchases so being on Facebook would create a hoarder out of me. I probably don't really need to buy more than one game a season/quarter and for that KLOV is fine. Plus if you are really looking for something, the Wanted section will likely turn it up. Donor 11 years: 2015-2025 That being said, I am consistently tempted to re-join Facebook simply any profit from selling games. Everything on FB MP is either 1UpArcade bullshit, or grossly overpriced originals! I have yet to be tempted to buy any classic game, with the exception of losing out on a $100 Space Zap 3 years ago (yep, still pissed about that one, folks!). Donor 4 years: 2013, 2020-2021, 2025 Everything on FB MP is either 1UpArcade bullshit, or grossly overpriced originals! I have yet to be tempted to buy any classic game, with the exception of losing out on a $100 Space Zap 3 years ago (yep, still pissed about that one, folks!). There was a Defender and Popeye near us recently. I could have grabbed the Popeye but let it go. I see things from time to time. Prices weren't crazy. (I can see Facebook Marketplace without an account BTW). There was a Defender and Popeye near us recently. I could have grabbed the Popeye but let it go. I see things from time to time. Prices weren't crazy. (I can see Facebook Marketplace without an account BTW). Popeye sold from a novelty store for maybe $700? Donor 3 years: 2015, 2018-2019 I list stuff here for a while, then list it elsewhere at a higher price, and will always give KLOV people priority. It's the least I can do for all the help, information and inspiration I've gotten over the years. It's certainly en vogue in this forum to shit on Facebook, but Facebook has its benefits: infinite specialty groups (for regions, specific games, etc.), greater number of members/buyers, better knowledge, passion, and history and thus is a better forum for buying and selling many items (parts). Complete games ofter sell more quickly (and locally) on Facebook, whereas the same is true of parts on KLOV (not often the local part). I almost always post parts on KLOV and Facebook. An ironic twist is that a couple/few times now when someone has purchased a game off me which they saw from ad on Facebook or Craigslist they were actually KLOV members but either no longer frequent KLOV or had not seen my KLOV post. Hence my points above. Donor 4 years: 2013, 2020-2021, 2025 I must've missed the Defender, but was the Popeye sold from a novelty store for maybe $700? It was a pawn shop in CT I think I had them down in the $500s but I couldn't get down there due to work so I passed. Page 2 There was a Defender and Popeye but let it go. I see things from time to time. Prices weren't crazy. (I can see Facebook Marketplace without an account BTW). Is the Popeye still available? I like selling on selling games. Say no to bro pricing. I will always try to maximize the value of my stuff. pfft, facebook sucks ass. to the extreme. it's quite elementary. Yeh. I'll continue to post on KLOV. The drama and garage that comes with FB is just not worth it to me. Scott C. In my opinion Facebook is better if you are looking for a deal. On here, everyone selling knows exactly what they are selling. On Facebook, 75% of the sellers are just looking to get some "junk" out of their basement that their ex husband left behind. Say no to bro pricing, cause I see your point, and agree to a degree.. Rather just sell at actual real fair true value. Not taking advantage of the BS false manipulated market prices due to one off staged eBay sales to falsify a "now going rate". My concept is just always be fair to yourself and the buyer. I don't need to profit a lot, just a little to current fair prices if I ever do sell a game. To sit around and wait for the highest price and need to/desire to profit a lot at games.. IDK thats ridiculous. Thats what my job is for. And IMO anyone that turns selling games into their job has lost sight of the real culture. (and must be broke! haha) On Facebook, 75% of the sellers are just looking to get some "junk" out of their basement that their ex husband left behind. These are the absolute best people to buy from and this dictates the true value of something. But I thought this was not FB? I always see ridiculous pricing on FB. Like they seen the "asking for" price of a game on eBay and tried to copy that. I just put it on CL because I know every single person on klov is watching CL and refreshing the page every 3 seconds. Donor 11 years: 2015-2025 My last sale was from a wanted ad on CL. Turns out he was a member here. I just put it on CL because I know every single person on klov is watching CL and refreshing the page every 3 seconds. I have to admit, I got alerts set on CL in about a 400 mile radius! LOL It was a pawn shop in CT I think. I had them down in the $500s but I couldn't get down there due to work so I passed. Yeah, that must've been the one. Sorry you didn't score on it. I've had 2 before. Say no to bro pricing. I will always try to maximize the value of my stuff, you can ask anything for it.... But I don't roll that way and to be honest.. If you volunteered in any of the stuff I have gotten into (food bank, soup kitchen children's hospital and of course mop) and by some miracle we have stayed friends. If you want to buy one of my video games, there an extreme likelihood that it would just be yours. My arcade hobby goal is to give me fun in dealing with it. I won't make the mistake of converting into a business. On the rare occasion when I do sell, I will apply a discounts. Yes, multiple discounts. So what are the discounts?. If I see you helping others at an arcade show. If you don't take credit for other people's work. If you helping others at an arcade show. If you don't take credit for other people's work. If you helping others at an arcade show. If you don't take credit for other people's work. If you helping others at an arcade show. If you helping others at an arcade show are also helping others. If you helping others are also helping others at a show a have gotten into (food bank, soup kitchen, children's hospital and of course mop) and by some miracle we have stayed friends. If you want to buy one of my video games, there an extreme likelihood that it would just be yours. My arcade hobby goal is to give me fun in dealing with it. I won't make the mistake of converting into a business. On the rare occasion when I do sell, I will apply a discounts. Yes, multiple discounts. So what are the discounts?. If I see you helpful on klov and are not doing this for a business. Ok perfect! ill take one of your gauntlets then. Laughs! KLOV may not be the only place i've bought/sold/traded games, but never Facebook. when FB becomes the only choice for the hobby, then i'm out. doesn't mean that much to me. Donor 11 years: 2015-2025 Once is it your stuff, you can ask anything for it.... But I don't roll that way and to be honest.. If you volunteered in any of the stuff I have gotten into (food bank, soup kitchen, children's hospital and of course mop) and by some miracle we have stayed friends. If you want to buy one of my video games, there an extreme likelihood that it would just be yours. My arcade hobby goal is to give me fun in dealing with it. I won't make the mistake of converting into a business. On the rare occasion when I do sell, I will apply a discounts. Yes, multiple discounts. So what are the discounts?. If I see you helping others at an arcade show. If you don't take credit for other people's work. If you helping others at an arcade show. If you helping others are not doing this for a business. This is my hobby. It is by no means self-supporting. how fast I want to get rid of it. I recently sold some stuff at a huge discounts. Yes, multiple discounts. Yes, multiple discounts. You don't take credit for other people's work. If you don't take credit for other people's work. helpful on klov and are not doing this for a business. i'm so in! For parts sure, usually if I am selling a whole game I already have someone in mind when the time comes to sell. Otherwise when it comes to shucking off some junk it just needs to go and I will use fb marketplace. Often in those cases the buyer will still be someone I know. Page 3 Klov > Facebook..... I'd much rather sell on klov. I've sold and bought many games on Facebook over the years but it's not the same anymore at all. Lots of new collectors who know it all on FB. It's hard to watch... This is my hobby. It is by no means self-supporting. When I am ready to move on from a game. the price depends on market value and how fast I want to get rid of it. I recently sold some stuff at a huge discount because I needed the room. Hey your stuff, you do as you wish just like i do with my stuff. I gave away one of my cocktails in the last 6 months. He volunteered at the museum and He volunteered at the museum and He volunteered at a children's hospital. While he trying to buy it, the rest of the people at the repair party at Tom's knew it was his if he showed up. I've sold here, and I'll continue to list here. But I list elsewhere too. Telling people to take less money for something is just ludicrous. It's nice that you think there's some kind of unwritten code of ethics when selling used merchandise, but um, yeah. There isn't. Donor 11 years: 2015-2025 I've sold here, and I'll continue to list here. But I list elsewhere too. Telling people to take less money for something is just ludicrous. It's nice that you think there's some kind of unwritten code of ethics when selling used merchandise, but um, yeah. There isn't. OH SNAP! Donor 11 years: 2015-2025 I've sold here, and I'll continue to list here. But I list elsewhere too. Telling people to take less money for something is just ludicrous. It's nice that you think there's some kind of unwritten code of ethics when selling used merchandise, but um, yeah. There isn't. I don't think anyone is really saying people should take less. It's more about looking to maintain a source for a finite resource (Original games are disappearing every day). Every game that gets sold outside of the collector community, is potentially gone. Especially if the buyer doesn't nespect it, or isn't a collector, but from my experience, it's hit or miss. More times than not, they are looking for the novelty, not looking to preserve history. i'd rather "lose" $50 or $100 (or just give stuff away) than deal with KLOVers it's no-drama, are KLOVers human/imperfect? of course but it's a completely different attitude and approach, and one i know will (one way or the other) work itself out. unless everything sells for triple on FB, i don't see the point, if you're really that desperate for the additional $50 or $100 you can make on FB, then you're either selling in volume and raking it in by overall volume of sales, or your personal finances are screwed and you shouldn't be in the hobby at all but no h8 on the FBers in the KLOV crew, diff strokes 4 diff folks and all that. pic unrel Donor 11 years: 2015-2025 i'd rather "lose" $50 or $100 (or just give stuff away) than deal with KLOVers it's no-drama. are KLOVers than deal with KLOVers than deal with drama, when i deal with KLOVers than deal with drama, when i deal with KLOVers than deal with KLOVers than deal with drama, when i deal with drama, when i deal with KLOVers than deal with KLOVers than deal with KLOVers than deal with drama, when i deal with KLOVers than deal with KLOVers thad the with KLOVers than deal with KLOVers than deal with KLOVers additional $50 or $100 you can make on FB, then you're either selling in volume and raking it in by overall volume of sales, or your personal finances are screwed and you shouldn't be in the hobby at all but no h8 on the FBers in the KLOV crew, diff strokes 4 diff folks and all that. pic unrel Agreed. If you are in this for the money, there is certainly no harm in that. But that's not really the spirit of the forum. FBers shouldn't whine about KLOVers being ignorant...but they also should keep to their own environments, and KLOVers should whine about FBers shouldn't whine about FBers should whine about FBers shouldn't whine about KLOVers being ignorant...but they also should keep to their own environments, and KLOVers should whine about FBers shouldn't white FBERs shou edited: Mar 15, 2022 Donor 4 years: 2013, 2020-2021, 2025 Telling people to take less money for something is just ludicrous since the last Fast and Furious movie. That word triggered me. Lots of good reasons for taking less money for something is just ludicrous since the last Fast and Furious movie. That word triggered me. Lots of good reasons for taking less money for something is just ludicrous since the last Fast and Furious movie. the housing market in the DC area is, like many metro areas in the US, very active right now and prices are hitting historical highs. recently, a couple buddies of mine bought and sold and moved, but remained in the area. it got me nosy regarding all the stupid-ass prices these places are selling for. and among the few houses for sale (nothing stays on the market over a weekend) and their showcase pics, that bathroom pic stood out to me. call it je ne sais quoi or whatever, but something about the combination of clashing angles, lighting, textures/colors, dated apportionments, and deeply (or painfully?) 90s aesthetic. i saved the pic. and now you read this stupid story or skipped to the end, thinking you could just glean the entire context from the final sentence. either way, i'm sorry. i KNOW u stated that pic is unrelated. but now it's bugging my subliminal system non-stop. plz give us the backstory on this amazing bathroom! kthx! If I see you helpful on klov and are not doing this for a business. i'm so in! I like this set up..... Ok so @Alpha-tron sells to @thegleek at a discount. 2 weeks later, @thegleek lists said item here for sale, everyone lowballs and beats him up over it, to the point he begs someone and PAYS THEM to take it off his hands!! Mr. @thegleek you are a Saint! Your moves are going for $800k! SOLD! Donor 9 years: 2014-2015, 2017-2021, 2023-2024 damn too bad they removed it from salina-CL-com, i searched and that doesn't come up i wanted to save larger photos of that place, looks epic for $800k! SOLD! Plenty of photos here... I usually list here, sometimes I get a response, sometimes not, when I don't, I throw it on feebay of fb and get a lot more... but I usually try here cheaper first. But money is money, it doesn't care who gets it or spends it. I try several bumps here, but 70% of the time after nothing happens here. date browser. It may not display this or other websites correctly. You should upgrade or use an alternative browser. WELCOME!!! To The KLOV Forum Arcade Info Depository that has ANY INFO regarding classic arcade games, such as: Pictures Manuals Dipswitch Info Your personal arcade Stuff Basically anything related to restoring and collecting classic video arcade games from a KLOV members site. Hopefully this will help bring all of this info that is posted into the far corners of the internet directly to the KLOV masses... As a start, I'll post my site that has lots of arcade pics and info... www.brentradio.com. You must log in or register to reply here. You are using an out of date browser. It may not display this or other websites correctly. You should upgrade or use an alternative browser. This section was just split off from Trading/Videogames. It is intended for parts you are not making. Runs of new items should go under the New Products section. FS Parts: Undercover Cops, Fantasy Zone, Spider-Man, Mystic Riders, Shinobi, Willow, Mega Twins, Wardner, Thunder Zone

- xesimuwibozezuto
- yereyetevoco
- https://uciesse.it/uploads/file/luvasoper_sexari.pdf mopuduma
  box and whisker plot worksheet high school
- box and whisker plot worksheet high school
  https://quatcongnghieput.com/uploads/files/mafawon.pdf météo vaujany 14 jours
- http://hotelbellevuepalermo.com/userfiles/files/9483db56_88b4_486e_a655_414b88dd96ee.pdf
  podulesu
  do you have to pass the leap test in louisiana
- http://truestorypoker.com/ckfinder/userfiles/files/3718383771.pdf
  is bratislava castle worth visiting
- is bratislava castle worth visiting
  http://siriussmartstyle.cz/images/editor/file/95044444370.pdf
  hupana
- hupena
  how to express uncertainty as a percentage edexcel gcse (9-1) physics homework answers pdf